ence.

The full list of new Methodist appointments for the North Georgia conference, announced Sunday night by Bishop Moore, will be found on Page 4.

BY DR. THOMAS M. ELLIOTT.

In the new appointments given the pastors of the North Georgia Methodist conference there are many surprises as well as radical changes made among the pastors. Four new presiding elders were appointed, and still another presiding elder transferred from one district to the presiding eldership of another.

Rev. J. R. Turner, former pastor of Douglasville, is made presiding
elder of the Dalton district, succeeding Rev. Frank Quillian. Rev. J. W.
Veach, former pastor of the Marietta First church, is appointed presiding elder of the Elberton district, succeeding Rev. H. L. Edmondson.

Rev. W. L. Duren, former pastor of Atlanta St. Mark church, becomes presiding elder of the Griffin district,
succeeding Rev. L. M. Twigs. Rev.
Marvin Williams leaves the Barnesville church to become presiding elder of the Marietta district, succeeding Rev. Nath Thompson, who goes to the Oxford district, succeeding Dr. E.
F. Dempsey, who becomes editor and manager of the Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Interesting Changes Here.

Interesting changes were made in the pastoral appointments for the Atlanta churches. Rev. Wallace Rogers becomes pastor of the Glenn Memorial church at Emory University, succeeding Rev. W. T. Watkins, who becomes a professor in the university.

Rev. B. F. Pim, who has been non-residential secretary in Epworth league work, comes to Epworth church as pastor. There are no changes made in the pastors at First church, Trinity, Grace, Calvary, Haygood, Trinity, Inman Park, or Payne Memorial.

Rev. J. E. Ellis again becomes pastor of Wesley Memorial church, succeeding Rev. L. W. Collins, who goes to Rome First church, succeeding Rev.
C. C. Cheek, who is moved to the College Park church.

No pastor has yet been named for the Atlanta St. Mark church to succeed Dr. W. L. Duren, who becomes
presiding elder of the Griffin district.

Rev. V. E. Lanford, who has been at the Atlanta St. John church, goes to the Patillo Memorial at Decatur, and is succeeded at St. John by Rev. E. C. Wilson.

Rev. J. H. Barton, formerly of the Cedartown First church, exchanges
places with Rev. T. R. Kenell, Jr., of the Washington (Ga.) church, exchanges places with Rev. J. T. Eakes,
at Sparks, Rev. T. E. Shackelford, of the Peachtree Road church, exchanges places with Rev. R. J. Broyles at Jefferson.

Rev. J. G. Logan leaves the Martha
Brown Memorial for the Marietta
First church, and is succeeded at the Atlanta church by Rev. H. L. Edmondson.

Rev. Paul Muse, transferring from Dawson, in the South Georgia conference into the North Georgia conference, is assigned the pastorate at Cedartown.

Undertaker Finds Business Is Worse

HOMESTEAD, Fla., Nov. 16.—
(P)—And now comes George W.
Turner, Jr., who asserts that business is bad, and at times very bad.
The unemployment situation and hard times are responsible, he avowed.

"In boom times people eat and drink more, and live faster lives generally," Turner explained. "In times when their pocketbooks are flat, they live more simply, eat more wholesome food, and take more exercise."

His business, Turner said, is behind that of last year. And, he added, competition has diminished.

TENNESSEE HOPES TO REGAIN FUNDS 'LOST' FROM BANK

Attorney General Not Decided, However, on Means To Bring About
Recovery.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 16.—(P)—
Attorney General L. D. Smith said today he was not prepared to announce what steps were contemplated toward "recovering" approximately $3,840,000 of securities that he declared in a statement yesterday were not found among the assets of the closed Bank of Tennessee.

These securities, Mr. Smith said in his statement yesterday, were deposited as a part of the bank's assets
September 23 upon demand of D. D.
Robertson, superintendent of banks,
when his examination showed the institution's condition "unsatisfactory."

Cash in excess of $1,000,000 was on hand at that time, the attorney general reported and this, with the additional securities, convinced the superintendent that the bank was solvent.

November 4 a committee of Nashville bankers took over the affairs of Caldwell and Company, investment banking house, of which the Bank of Tennessee was a subsidiary, and decided to liquidate the bank. Mr.
Robertson, in his official capacity was appointed receiver for it in chancery court on November 7.

After the bank was closed an examination by the receiver, the attorney general said, revealed that none of the securities deposited upon demand September 23 were found among its assets and that the cash on hand
had been "all dissipated." The receiver's inventory, filed in chancery
court, listed cash on hand at $32,550.

The attorney general's office, Mr.
Smith said, is "hopeful" of recovering
some or all of the securities and
"restoring" them to the assets of the Bank of Tennessee. A list of those deposited September 23, he explained,
is in the hands of superintendent of banks and a thorough examination is being made for the purpose of determining the method of the disappearance of such securities. The investigation has not reached the point, however, he said, where any statement
can be made as to its probable result.

"The investigation made leads to the conclusion," Mr. Smith's statement continued, "that assets claimed by Caldwell and Company, an investment banking corporation of which the Bank of Tennessee was merely a subsidiary, are in reality a property of the Bank of Tennessee and may be reached for the purpose of applying them upon its liabilities."

Lee Douglas, appointed Thursday night by Judge John J. Gore, of the United States district court, as receiver for Caldwell and Company, said today he did not know when an inventory of that concern would be ready for filing.

S. S. McConnell, former state superintendent of banks, has been appointed liquidating agent for the bank
at Knoxville. Mr. McConnell said yesterday that he would be ready to begin his work on Monday.

Mr. McConnell also will be liquidating agent for the Liberty Bank and Trust Company, which closed Thursday night. Mr. Robertson said he could not estimate how long the liquidation would require.

In the Bank of Tennessee and the Liberty Bank and Trust Company, both of Nashville, and the Holston National Bank at Knoxville, which closed Tuesday night, Attorney General Smith said more than $5,700,
000 of funds of the state of Tennessee
are on deposit.

Because of the funds tied up in these institutions, the Chemical Bank and Trust Company of New York, the state's fiscal agent, has offered to place a credit of $5,000,000
at the state's disposal. Chattanooga banks also have offered $1,000,000 to the state to complete highway and bridge projects under construction in the Chattanooga territory.

RIISING GOLD PRICE ALARMS BANKERS AT LONDON MEET

Financial Leaders of World Discuss Diminishing Production of Metallurgical Standard of Values

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(UP)—The steadily diminishing world production of gold and the consequent rise in the price of that metal, together with the huge concentration of gold reserves in the United States and France and the possible effect of this situation on the continued payment of reparations and war debts are among the subjects of discussion at secret meetings of international bankers in London, financial authorities said today.

The bankers include J. Pierpont
Morgan, Owen D. Young, General
James G. Harbord, George Harrison, Montagu Norman and others of prominence.

Considerable significance in connection with the conferences was attached to a speech by Lord D'Abernon,
former British ambassador to Germany and a leading financial authority. Lord D'Abernon, speaking Friday night to the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, emphasized that the gold standard of the world had become unstable, owing to an increasing deficiency in the supply of gold
in relation to the post-war increase
in the volume of production.

"Unless measures are taken to achieve a fall in the price of gold," Lord D'Abernon said, "I foresee the gold standard of the world will become unstable, owing to an increasing deficiency in the supply of gold
in relation to the post-war increase
in the volume of production."

The possibility of a postponement of reparations and war debt payments was also discussed. The London correspondent of the London
Observer, who wrote:

"The Young plan came into operation only last May, but already financial advisers of creditor governments
are forced to contemplate the possible
invocation of the postponement
clauses of the Young plan."

"The question of postponement,
however, is merely a side issue in the general problem of what is taking place behind the veils of diplomacy and political expediency. The enforced examinations of the threatened disastrous consequences of the existing network of international debts, combined with the prevailing scramble for gold by the central banks of two leading nations (United States and France) and the resultant rising price of gold, are the real factors which have depressed and the burden of debts which can be paid only in goods automatically increased."

"Strong influences in Berlin and London have now made it likely that a dozen leading governments will take the necessary action without much delay."

The Observer said the problem of gold distribution has become a matter for worldwide diplomatic action.

CHESHIRE WORKERS
CONTINUE DRIVE

Hutchinson Is Pleased With Reports of Cam- paign Progress.

With $123,332 already subscribed,
workers in the Community Chest's eighth annual campaign will renew their efforts today toward obtaining
the balance needed to reach their goal, $398,228.

A third report is to be received from the workers when they gather at noon today for their luncheon meeting on the roof of the Ansley hotel.

Herbert N. Hutchinson, general chairman of the campaign, issued a statement Sunday night saying that although no official reports had been given him since the last luncheon meeting he had been given information by various team leaders which convinced him that the total reported today will materially decrease
the balance of $275,228 needed to reach the 1930 goal.

"We have had remarkable success
for the first few days of the campaign," Mr. Hutchinson said. "The weather has been bad but our workers have been tramping the streets faithfully and every report is encouraging. I have fond hopes that a smashing report will be received Monday noon."

Mr. Hutchinson also said he expected that a large new number of "100 per cent companies," the designation
for firms and business houses reporting 100 per cent of their personnel donating to the chest, would be added today. The following firms already have been awarded the 100 per cent certificates.

Bride To Stand By Mate Held on Check Charge Here

Jessie and Robert K. Smith, newlyweds held in jail here on orders from the Charleston (S. C.) police where the police say Smith cashed a worthless check on the indorsement of Jessie Johnson. Jessie followed Smith to Atlanta and they were married here a day or two before they were arrested.

A honeymoon that has prospects of being spent in jail is beginning to pull a bit to Mrs. Jessie Johnson Smith, pretty 21-year-old Charleston bride on four days, she indicated at police station Sunday, after she and her husband had spent the night behind
the bars on a telegraphic warrant from that city in connection with alleged bad checks attributed to her and her husband, Robert K. Smith, of Springfield, Ohio.

Nevertheless, the bride sighed patiently Sunday night and declared that whether she "sticks" to her mate
will all depend.

"I'll stick by Bob," she said then,
"unless I find out that he wasn't on the level when he gave me those four checks to get cashed for him Armistice Day."

The checks, she related, totaled $145, and she got friends to cash them when her fiance appeared perturbed over what he pictured as a necessity to get to Ohio in time for the funeral of his parents, supposedly killed in a motor accident.

"Bob told me a friend owed him $148," she related, "and seemed so anxious to get home to attend his parents' funeral that he asked me to help him get four checks cashed. I consented, and he went out and brought back the checks, which he told me he had cashed at the bank, and he started for Springfield."

But the fiance, whom she had met recently at a dinner-dance in her home city, she said, came to Atlanta and told her over long-distance that he had received news that his parents already had been buried, and pleaded with her to meet him here and get married.

And the checks, she sighed, came back. They were taken in custody at a downtown hotel Saturday by detectives and Sunday night it was understood they will be held pending
further instructions from Charleston
police.

However, it now appears that the haste of President Hoover to get assurance from the republican and democratic floor leaders in the senate
that they would co-operate to avoid the extra session in the spring has focused attention upon such a situation and aroused the republican independents.

BORAH INDIGNANT AT HOOVER FEAR OF FILIBUSTERS

Alarm Over Possible
Forcing of Extra Session
Described as "Superlative Impudence."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(P)— Fears of a senate filibuster at the approaching session of congress to force an extra session in the spring
were belittled tonight by Senator Borah, of Idaho, a leader of the republican independents.

At the same time, however, he gave notice there would be no "stamping" of legislation at the short session.

Denying any intention of joining in a filibuster and scuttling threats of such a move, Senator Borah bellig-erently asked upon his return to the capital: "Why all this excitement
about a supposed filibuster in order to force an extra session?"

Mr. Hoover solicited assurances from the party leaders in the senate against a filibuster.

"I have not heard of any such threats from the democrats," he said,
"neither have I heard any such threats from the progressives. I think it an exhibition of superlative impudence to be stating, in effect, that the progressives or the democrats have not just as keen a sense of responsibility and quite as intelligent conception of their duty as the republicans."

"I have been a member of the senate for 24 years. I have never joined a filibuster. I do not propose to join any now. But I do not propose either to be stampeded out of giving proper and necessary consideration to appropriation bills and such other important legislation as we know is now pending."

"I am in favor of going ahead and disposing of business in an orderly and efficient manner, and I will pay
no attention to any cooked-up effort to stampede the congress."

The pointed declaration of the Idaho senator came back to the capitol
with an election victory on his belt,
was regarded here as notice that the independents were going to insist upon full consideration of some of their pet projects and Sunday night it was understood they will be held pending
further instructions from Charleston
police.

Atlantan Ends Life Near Grave of Kin

CEDARTOWN, Ga., Nov. 16.—
(Special).—Choosing the somber background of a rural cemetery,
where many members of his family were buried, George Artope, of Atlanta, formerly a well-known contractor of this city, sent a bullet through his brain a few hours after arriving here from Atlanta on a bus Sunday morning.

Assessing found the body of the man lying across a grave, a revolver, with one shot fired, lying nearby. In one hand he clutched a note he had addressed to a local undertaker saying that he had selected the family graveyard as the "easiest" spot in which to die.

Previously he had visited out-Cedartown, meeting and talking with old friends and giving no indication that he contemplated self-destruction. The note referred to despondency over continued illness
and the decision to kill himself.

COUNCIL TACKLES HEAVY SCHEDULE THIS AFTERNOON

Many Important Measures Will Get Consideration; McLaurin Offers
Two Papers.

Certainty of a heated controversy
over proposed tax revision on a radically downward scale loomed over the week-end as borough council prepared for its regular meeting this afternoon,
while probability was that a stiff fight also might come up on the floor of the chamber over a measure which would sweep out of Grady hospital
from the hospitals and charities committee and convey it to private direction.

Those two measures, announced as ready for introduction at today's session, comprised the most outstanding phases of city legislation to be put before the borough representatives today, although a number of minor ordinances in the making or already devised to a finish satisfactory to their authors, may be flung into the chamber hopper.

Calling for a reduction of $75,000
in tax assessments, an ordinance
pronounced ready for introduction
Saturday by Councilman John A.
White, of the fourth ward, is scheduled to go before the chamber for consideration. It was understood from supporters of this proposal that every effort will be made to gain
right-of-way for introduction and discussion of the ordinance, which would be given to the city by the party leaders.

CARPENTER PLEA DECISION TODAY

Judge Pomeroy Will Rule on Demurrer of Councilman.

Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy in Fulton superior court is expected to hand down a ruling on the demurrer filed in behalf of Councilman W. Paul Carpenter, which has delayed trial of Carpenter on an indictment charging him with bribery.

Carpenter's attorneys have attacked the constitutionality of the indictment. Arguments were heard last week by Judge Pomeroy on the motion to quash the indictment. Attorneys for Carpenter allege that because the city ordinance assessing $1,000 in license fees from auction jewelers the indictment against him growing out of an alleged deal with a jeweler over the payment of the license is illegal. After hearing the arguments of Carpenter's counsel and an answer from Solicitor General John A. Boykin, Judge Pomeroy took the demurrer under advisement with the announcement that he likely would have a decision today.

Should the Carpenter demurrer be sustained or trial further delayed for any reason, Solicitor General Boykin is expected to call one of the following cases, which are on the docket, to trial: Those of Frank Callaway, former councilman; J. Allen Couch, alderman and mayor pro tem; L. L. Wallis, formerly superintendent of the city park department; J. R. Leach, former city garage employee; J. E. Robinson, formerly of the city construction department; and W. A. Adcock, Georgia Power Company employee, charged with jury tampering.

The case of Walter C. Taylor, former city clerk, is scheduled for Thursday of this week.

Restores First Customs House

Mrs. Arthur Kelly Evans, of Atlanta, Ga., and Hot Springs, Va., a descendant of the first patentee of Yorktown, Va., is shown beside the first customs house in America, which was dedicated at the little Virginia village Saturday, November 15. Mrs. Evans financed restoration of the tiny brick building erected in 1706 at Yorktown as America's first port of entry. Associated Press photo.

MEETING TO REVEAL AIR STATUS OF CITY

Atlanta's strategic position in the aviation field will be illustrated at the aviation and traffic conference Wednesday and Thursday, which precedes the meeting in Atlanta of the directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The latter meeting is scheduled for Friday and Saturday. Many of the nation's outstanding business executives will be present.

Howard E. Coffin, at present in Detroit, announced his intention of flying to Atlanta in order to get here in time for the aviation and traffic meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Coffin has been prominently identified with national aeronautics and is vitally interested in the further development of this mode of travel in the south. An interesting feature of his visit on such a mission, it was stated, is that his Georgia home on Sapelo Island is the remodeled house of the man who first suggested a transcontinental railroad, whereas Mr. Coffin is credited with being the first man to suggest a transcontinental airway.

F. D. ROOSEVELT HERE THIS WEEK

Governor of New York Coming to Warm Springs for Short Stay.

Atlanta and the rest of the state will be given an opportunity Tuesday afternoon to extend their own brands of southern hospitality to a man who, while not a native of this state, lies so close to the province of his adoption that it generally is taken for granted that he is a true Georgia Cracker—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, governor of New York.

On the heels of his splendid, overwhelming re-election by the people of his own New York, Governor Roosevelt, it was learned Sunday, will leave sometime today for Georgia, his destination ultimately being Warm Springs, a rural section which, by his own undeviating efforts he succeeded in transforming into a paradise for the afflicted.

His route lies by way of Atlanta, where he is scheduled to arrive over the Southern Railway at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. From here he will proceed to Warm Springs, there to linger in the salubrious atmosphere thereabouts for a month or more.

Just how long the famous "happy warrior" from the east will sojourn in Georgia this year was not known locally, but it was recalled Sunday that he usually spends around two months of the winter at the springs, where he and others who, through the realization of his own dreams, benefit from the healthful middle-Georgia resort.

Neither was it known Sunday whether Governor Roosevelt planned to stop overnight at Atlanta, but announcement of his coming found a city and community eager to extend their greetings, congratulations and hospitality to the man from upstate New York.

It is expected that hundreds will throng the Terminal Station at the hour of his arrival Tuesday afternoon, and while no official program of welcoming the "happy warrior" had been formulated during the week-end, it was reasonably believed that various civic and municipal representatives would give him a hearty reception.

The Woman of today keeps free of colds

When you carry VAPEX in your handbag no cold has the chance to grip you

Your days are so full of activity that you simply cannot allow a cold to interfere with your routine or blight your pleasure.

So you will find that Vapex—the delightful inhalant—is a reliable companion to have always at hand.

For Vapex checks a cold at the start. Does it simply. And easily. A drop on your handkerchief—a few deep breaths of the fragrance—and you'd scarcely believe you had a cold. The vapor keeps its strength all day. Vapex can also be used on the pillow—a drop at each end.

Be wary when some one offers you a product that is "just as good as Vapex and cheaper."

Vapex is the inhalant approved by Good Housekeeping. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It has never been successfully imitated.

And after all, a single application of Vapex costs only 2c. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications. Ask for V-A-P-E-X always and insist on obtaining it.

EMORY TO CELEBRATE SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Elaborate Program Planned By Graduate Association.

The Graduate's Association of the Emory University library school will on November 24 celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the school, officers of the association announced Sunday.

A dinner will be served at the Hotel Biltmore, with more than 300 graduates expected to attend. The dinner will mark the time for announcement that the library school has been included as one of the graduate schools of the university.

The date selected for the celebration, November 24, is just prior to the meeting of the Southeastern Library Association at Tampa, Fla., it was said. This date was chosen with the hope that a greater number of graduates might gather here.

One of the principal organizers of Emory library school was Anna Wallace Howland, it was said. Miss Howland is now director of the library school of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia.

Dr. Carl Taylor Sees Industrial Boom for South

Dr. Carl Taylor, dean of the graduate school, North Carolina State College of Agriculture, spoke on the subject, "New Frontiers of Industry" at the first meeting of the Atlanta Forum Association, held in the Studio Club at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Taylor declared that the south is the industrial frontier area, confronted by the usual frontier situations. But "as is usual in such cases, refuses to admit it or to face the issues," he asserted.

He declared that frontier characteristics include: Desire for industrialization, long hours, low wages, refusal to enact labor legislation, unconcern of the poor toward living standards of the poor, etc. In speaking of this he said "Industrialism creates new conditions which social arrangements of agricultural society cannot meet." He named the "present issues" as collective bargaining, use of strikes and picketing, legislation affecting private property rights, and inequality of incomes and living standards.

In conclusion Dr. Taylor called upon the south to face these issues and to pass legislation to protect the worker's position in industry. He recognized unionism and collective bargaining. The meeting, attended by approximately 100, was presided over by Professor Mercer G. Evans, of Emory University, and the meeting was brought to a close with a round-table discussion.

It was announced that the next meeting of the Forum association will be held Friday, December 5, at 8 o'clock at the Central Congregational church when the topic "Sham and Reality in Politics" will be discussed.

DUVALL RESIGNS CIVIC CLUB POST

Dr. W. Beecher Duvall, president of the South Fulton Civic Federation, since the formation of that body two years ago, has tendered his resignation, effective November 28, on which date a special meeting has been called for the election of his successor. The meeting will be held in the Log Cabin of the Sylvan Hills Improvement Club, it is announced.

Pressing professional duties and increasing demands in other civic and charitable connections were the reasons assigned by Dr. Duvall for his resignation.

The federation is composed of 24 community civic clubs in south Fulton county, the assemblies being made up of six representatives from each group, including the principal officers.

Four young agricultural students hailing from widely separated sections of the country, one from Georgia, will meet in the first national public speaking contest for Future Farmers of America to be broadcast from the Shrine Temple, Kansas City, Mo., between 10 and 11 p. m. today over the Columbia Broadcasting network.

The four boys have come through elimination contests beginning with local chapters of Future Farmers of America in high school, and eventually through state and sectional contests to determine the most accomplished public speakers on agricultural topics. Among them is Bill Smith, of Mount Zion, Ga., whose subject will be "Equalization of Taxes as a Farm Relief Measure."

Old-time favorites will vie with the newest 1930 best-steppers this evening when the Ingram Shavers will present another of their programs through WSP from 7:30 to 8.

The older group of favorites, which will be sung by the Shavers' Barber Shop Trio, are: "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet," "Honey Boy," and "Rings On My Fingers, Bells On My Toes." Popular favorites which will be represented by such fast-stepping numbers as "Here Comes the Sun," "You Do Something," and "Just a Little Closer." The new installment of the dramatic sketch, "At the Ring Side" is another highlight of this broadcast.

Donning their turtle-neck sweaters the Brigadiers during tonight's Chevrolet period of the General Motors Family Party through WSB at 8:30 o'clock will inject a collegiate atmosphere into the program, by singing a medley of college songs. These have been especially arranged for the broadcast by Frank Black, the Brigadiers' arranger and accompanist. The group consists of six well known numbers: "The Victrola," "Down the Field," "The Cannon Song" and "Anchors Aweigh."

Soloist of the night's program is James Melton, tenor of the Brigadiers.

Edward Napravnik's vigorous "Festival March," will conclude the Stromberg-Carlson program to be broadcast from the studios of WHAM, Rochester, over WSB and NBC network at 9 p. m.

Guy Fraser Harrison will conduct the Rochester Civic orchestra.

West End Civic Group Will Hold Roundup Tonight

A community roundup is planned by the West End Businessmen's Association as a feature of its regular monthly meeting at Lee Street school at 8 o'clock tonight, when every member or former member of the organization is requested to bring at least three other West End citizens to the session.

Robert P. Catlin, president, stated Sunday night that an educational campaign would be launched to acquaint the community with the work of the association.

"The name of the organization is misleading to some," said Mr. Catlin. "We find the impression that this group is composed of men in business in the section is very general. As a matter of fact our work is all civic in its nature and every white male resident of the West End section is eligible for membership and is invited to submit his application."

While personal political matters are barred from discussion in the meetings, several matters, such as the proposed plan to reduce the number of wards of the city, the metropolitan drainage district, through traffic lanes and other items of city-wide interest are scheduled for formal action tonight.

Walter W. Whitington and Hewitt W. Chambers, past presidents, will lend their counsel to the meeting, while several entertaining features have been arranged under direction of A. C. Ayers, secretary.

Ernestine Hornady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hornady, of Atlanta, will appear before the footlights. She today as a member of the cast of "School Girl."

Her histrionic talent attracted attention here when she appeared in a number of local talent plays. Her appearance on Broadway today marks the climax of a long preparation for a career before the footlights. The play is an adaptation from a book by the same name, written by Carmen Barnes, of Nashville, Tenn., written on Lookout Mountain while the author was on vacation from school.

The young actress' mother is a prominent clubwoman here, having at one time been president of the Atlanta Woman's Club. Her father is a writer, having written the "Story of Atlanta" and other books.

Somewhere in the background of each of these automobiles and homes is a bank—in many thousands of cases, that bank is the Citizens and Southern National.

It is our purpose to offer every member of every Atlanta family—business man or woman, housewife, son or daughter—a complete banking service. And these services are safeguarded by more than $10,000,000 capital structure and conservative policies extending back to 1887.

HUDSON ADDS 1,000 TO WORKING FORCE

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Hudson Motor Car Company added another 1,000 men to its working force today, making an additional 3,500 men put to work in the past three weeks, and, in line with this policy to afford immediate employment to as large a force of wage-earners as possible, William J. McAnaney, president, announces prices at which new Hudson and Essex models will sell are lowest in 22 years' successful history of manufacture.

Base list price of the Hudson, to be known as the "greater Hudson eight," will be $875. New Essex super six will sell as low as $595. Thus, McAnaney points out, his company is offering new products at a saving of $175 on Hudson and $170 on Essex, compared with prices when new models were introduced one year ago and takes full recognition of obligation to give the public every advantage in value and at the same time provide employment for large number of workers. We have built these models up to the 1931 standard of performance and quality in every way and have never offered so many improvements in our history," said McAnaney. "The quality is greater down to last detail, every phase of performance greatly improved and the luxuries we have built into the cars substantially greater than ever before. Only great manufacturing economies and the fact that our 'age resource' permit us to take the fullest possible advantage of reduced commodity prices have enabled us to offer the public the lowest prices in our entire history," said Hudson's chief.

Only former employees of Hudson are being taken back.

Held in Killing

Walter Dodson, who is being held by officers at Cairo in connection with the murder of Rudolph R. Behrends, young German tourist, whose body was found in a clump of bushes beside the highway near Cairo last Friday morning. Dodson charges Fred Koster, his companion, killed Behrends. He voluntarily reported the crime to authorities, he said, "to ease his conscience."

SLAIN TOURIST'S BODY SENT TO NEW YORK

CAIRO, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The body of Rudolph R. Behrends, 23-year-old German tourist, slain near here Thursday morning, was sent Sunday to New York for cremation, and the ashes will be sent to his family in Frankfurt, Germany. Heinz Kress, of Jersey City, N. J., arrived Saturday to take charge of the remains.

Meanwhile, Walter Dodson and Fred Koster were in jail here in connection with the killing. Officers said Dodson told them he reported the crime to ease his conscience and they say that Koster has confessed to the actual slaying, but later changed his story in several particulars.

Koster first refused to give his home address but said today, officers reported, that his father, John Koster, a jeweler, resides at 748 19th street, New York city. He also claimed, they said, that an uncle, a retired banker named Emil Kaelher, lived in St. Louis, Mo.

Dodson gave the address of his mother, Mrs. Grace Dodson, as 432 West Main street, Newark, Ohio.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A court drama in which more than 200 witnesses have been subpoenaed will open in Lowndes county superior court Monday when five men charged with the deaths of a man and his wife are docked for trial.

R. Z. Chaney, Allen Westberry, Homer Padgett, Travers Erwin and Austin Westberry have been indicted on charges the murder in 1928 of W. H. Browning and his wife. The Brownings were killed at a little fishing station they operated five miles from here in what officers described as a hold-up attempt.

Ed Stephens, chief of Atlanta, chief assistant to the Fulton county solicitor-general, has been retained to assist Solicitor-General G. C. Spurlin. Two Atlanta detectives are here also to work on the case.

The defense counsel includes many leading attorneys of south Georgia and three Florida attorneys. They are: J. B. Copeland and C. H. Dukes, E. K. Wilcox, Hamilton Burch, J. B. Odum and Frances Wilcox, of Valdosta; Barton Weston, of Quitman; and J. A. Stewart, A. B. Rowe and E. G. Grimes, of Manatee and Bradenton, Fla. The attorneys represent the various defendants, but all defendants do not have the same attorneys. Officers said it was likely that the five men would not be tried jointly. Solicitor-General Spurlin has not announced which case or cases he will call for trial first. Judge W. E. Thomas will preside over the court.

The bishop plans to hold daily discussions with the presiding elders during the first four days of the conference which continues from Wednesday through Sunday.

MACON MAN DROWNS AS BOAT OVERTURNS

MACON, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The swollen Ocmulgee river claimed the life of Clifford Dow Rogers, 34, of this city, Sunday afternoon when a motorboat in which he and Robert D. Kingman, also of Macon, were riding, turned over in the swift current while trying to turn around.

Kingman managed to float and struggle to a tree overhanging the stream, saving himself. The two men left here at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, traveling in Rogers' car, with his boat on a trailer. They went to Red Bluff and launched the craft, intending to go as far as Lumber City and return. They went down stream to West Lake and then turned about and went upstream about three miles above Red Bluff. On a treacherous curve in the river, where the water is from 25 to 40 feet deep and dangerously swift they started to turn around.

Rogers was at the helm. The boat turned sharply, careened and flopped over. It sank out of sight, with the guns and all the equipment the men had with them.

Brunswick Launches Program To Interest Year-Around Tourists

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Historic Brunswick, with her balmy atmosphere, beautiful oaks and Spanish moss, founded in 1771, has left the latch string on the outside—all visitors are welcome.

Brunswick has adopted a five-year program of modernization and beautification to interest year-around visitors—except they are not tourists here but visitors.

Three thousand automobiles pass through the city daily now bound for cities farther south but Brunswick does not intend for this to continue. She is awake to her tourist possibilities.

Brunswick's awakening came about four years ago. Howard Coffin, millionaire developer of Sea Island said, when the subject of zoning was first brought before the people at a mass meeting.

"Things moved a bit slowly at first," Mr. Coffin said, "but recently the city and county joined hands and appropriated $20,000 to zone both the city and county. Only two other counties in the country have adopted such progressive steps."

Then things began and still are moving swiftly. Brunswick has adopted a five-year program of real beautification and modernization. The city has set aside $25,000 to start the program this year and that will be but a mere bagatelle compared with the ultimate funds to be provided.

"A visitor's club is now being constructed at the northern entrance to the city and will be in the center of a beautiful park. This will be given over entirely to our visitors, they are not tourists here."

"When these visitors come, the people are going to treat them as the people have never been treated before. Prices are going to be reasonable and everything possible will be provided for their entertainment. They are going to be made to feel at home and to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

"Today the shooting rights on 125,000 acres have been secured by the city and for a reasonable fee visitors may come, obtain a guide and dogs; or if they prefer fishing there are no better grounds along the whole Atlantic coast than in the waters here. Fishing guides and between 60 and 100 boats are available now for parties. These may also be procured at a reasonable price."

"Twelve acres of land on the marsh between Brunswick and Sea Island have been purchased by the city, where an airport is to be constructed for the use of both land and seaplanes. Deep water is available on three sides of the airport, which will become a regular stop on the New York to Miami passenger air route as soon as the route has been inaugurated."

Mr. Coffin said that those visitors who desire to live in homes of local residents may have that wish fulfilled. He said residents were making their homes more modern to take care of visitors and a real homey atmosphere was being created throughout the municipality.

POLICEMAN SLAIN NEAR HAZLEHURST

Effort To Serve Warrant Leads to Shooting, Says Sheriff.

HAZLEHURST, Ga., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Riley J. Waters, county policeman, was shot to death on a farm near here last night and today Grant Hinson was in jail charged with his death.

Sheriff D. L. Evans, of Jeff Davis county, said he was informed that Waters and Frank Alexander went to the farm to arrest Grant Hinson on an allegation that he had forfeited a bond in Appling county.

Shortly after Waters and Alexander reached the farm, the sheriff was told, Hinson and his brother, W. Hinson, Jr., fled from the house. Waters was reported by the sheriff to have fired into the air to stop them. The shooting of Waters followed. The policeman was killed instantly by the lead from a shotgun.

The sheriff quoted Grant Hinson as saying that he had fired the shotgun, but did not know who had shot at him, nor did he know the man he fired at was an officer.

The accused man, the sheriff said, told him that he and his brother were running toward a field because they heard some hogs squealing and they thought someone was trying to steal the livestock.

Waters was 30 years old. His wife and three small children survive. Grant Hinson is 25 and unmarried. Hinson was arrested by the sheriff shortly after the shooting and taken to the jail at Mount Vernon, which is used by Jeff Davis county to hold its prisoners.

MANY ARE INJURED IN POLE ELECTIONS

Sixty-One Are Reported Wounded in Warsaw as Pilsudski Wins Majority

WARSAW, Nov. 16.—(P)—Sixty-one persons were wounded or injured during clashes in Warsaw last night and today in connection with the Polish parliamentary elections. Victory in the balloting was indicated for the government party of Premier Joseph Pilsudski.

Five of the casualties in the capital were reported as seriously injured, four of them by revolver shots.

Most of the others resulted from scuffles, principally between communists, government adherents and laborites, with the Zamosci and orthodox Jews in their crowded quarter battling frequently.

Reports from the various centers indicated Pilsudski would obtain a three-fourths majority in the sejm of 44 seats. The sejm was adjourned last August by the veteran premier on charges that it "hamstrung" the government. Marshal Pilsudski then began putting opposition deputies out of the way until 81 of them were in jail by election day. Other prominent oppositionists were arrested today.

There also is indication that the national democrats will capture more seats. But the central radical bloc apparently suffered a smashing defeat. This group, composed of the socialist and peasant parties, had been expected to make a strong race.

Government circles smiled tonight at the likely discomfiture of the socialist, who had invited two prominent French socialists, Leon Jouhaux and Jean Louvin, here to witness the conduct of the elections. The visit of the Frenchmen had aroused indignation in the government newspapers.

Polling was heavy everywhere except in the Vilno region and in east Galicia, where heavy rains interfered.

The Amendment Proposal. Councilman McLaurin's charter-amendment proposal follows:

"Whereas, some eight or nine years ago the charter of Atlanta was amended whereby the registration of voters and preparation of voters lists was turned over to the office of city clerk, and whereas, the same occasions trouble and confusion on the part of citizens in having to register at two different places for city and county elections; therefore,

"Be it resolved by the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta that the representatives of Fulton county in the Georgia legislature be and they are hereby requested to amend the charter of the city of Atlanta, by repealing the amendment passed some eight years ago by which the registration of voters in city elections was delegated to some officer of the city government, and providing that the same shall be done by the tax collector of Fulton county, who shall prepare said lists and furnish the same for primaries and general elections in the same manner that said lists were handled previous to the time said amendment was passed, in order that the citizens of Atlanta shall thereby be enabled to register at the Fulton county courthouse for all elections, both city, county and state."

They told attaches that they had considerable trouble extracting him from the wreck of the overturned machine as he was wedged between the car and a tree. They gave their names as M. H. FIVE NEGROES JAILED IN WAR ON BANDITRY

Police Effort To Halt Wave of Crime Nets Arrests.

As the combined forces of county and city, augmented by 40 men of a special detail from the Georgia Power Company, scoured the city in an effort to halt the wave of banditry three negro bandits were caught Sunday morning, a stolen car was recovered and in a second instance another negro was in a cell at police headquarters, while his partner lay seriously wounded at Grady hospital.

Early Sunday morning following a series of holdups here Saturday night, Detective A. G. Stone, of the city police, and Deputy Sheriff J. B. Baze, more and O. W. McKenize took in tow three negroes thought to have participated in holdups Saturday night.

The three were arrested at their homes, and gave their names as W. M. Diskill, 16, 181 Ashby street; Walter Cole, 21, 26 Granger street, and Edward Greer, 16, of 247 Mildred street. According to Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole, the trio admitted Sunday that they robbed two negro messenger boys in West End Saturday night.

A car, alleged to have been used by the trio, was found by the same officers on Ashby street. A check-up revealed that the car was stolen from J. A. Rabern, of 807 Virginia circle, while he was attending a theater Saturday night. Though the negroes are said to have admitted their guilt in connection with the two holdups, they were held Sunday night on technical charges of suspicion.

Shortly before daylight Sunday morning an alleged burglar was taken by police and a second sent to Grady hospital for treatment of a pistol wound, said to be serious.

Green Smith, 603 Magruder street, was the alleged negro burglar being

ARKANSAN KILLED FROM PARKED CAR

BERRYVILLE, Ark., Nov. 16.—(P)—Dick Hull, 65, of Keel Creek, was killed instantly late last night when he was struck by a hail of shotgun slugs fired from a parked car after he had left his house in answer to a call.

Three men were in jail here tonight in connection with the slaying. They are Franz Johnson, a neighbor of Hull, and Jack Franklin and Jay Hamby, both of Berryville. They will be given preliminary hearing tomorrow.

held by police Sunday night, while Lark Aaron, another negro, of a Randolph street address, his alleged accomplice, was in the hospital. According to police reports, two burglars entered a rear window of the home of John Edwards, colored, 602 Decatur street, and as they entered he fired on them, wounding one.

The pair fled, leaving a trail of blood behind them. Lieutenant J. D. McWilliams was summoned and he nabbed Aaron and Smith on the porch of a near-by house.

Burglars and two stick-up men were active in the small hours of Sunday morning, according to police reports. The bandits, negroes, held up S. Fineberg, grocerman, in front of his home, 945 Fern street, and took $275 in cash from his person.

A burglar entered a miniature golf course at Sixth and Spring streets, closed for the winter, and took away two dozen golf clubs, it was reported to police, Sunday. Another burglary reported was at a filling station located at 244 Fort street, where thieves breaking the lock on the front door, ransacked the office and took $50 in cash. They then cut a hose to a gasoline pump and made away with 75 gallons of gasoline.

POWER CO. WILL FILE RATE ANSWER TODAY

Written Reply to Rule Nisi of Service Commission Is Due.

In compliance with a rule nisi issued several weeks ago by the Georgia public service commission requiring the Georgia Power Company to show why that organization's wholesale power rates should not be revised, the company today is scheduled to file a written answer with the commission, setting forth its reasons for opposing such a change, which, it is understood, would be in the nature of a wholesale rate reduction.

Following official receipt of the written response of the power company, James A. Perry, chairman, said Sunday night, a date will be set for a hearing on the matter. No date has as yet been suggested, either by the commission or the company, he said.

On Wednesday afternoon the commission will convene at 2:30 o'clock.

Your Scalp Is Entitled to 121,630 HAIRS Does It Have Them?

If you are a blonde your scalp should have 140,000 hairs; if a red-head, 90,000 will suffice, while a brunette needs 120,000 to meet present day requirements. The average healthy head of hair should have 121,630 hairs.

Nature provides your scalp with the necessary structure to grow this quantity of hair, but you yourself must help this hair-growing structure to function properly. If you have dandruff, if your hair is falling, or if your scalp is itchy you are surely on the road to baldness.

Let Thomas help your scalp make its quota. Thomas will overcome your falling hair and actually promote hair growth on the thin and bald spots. Each day Thomas is helping more than 1,600 persons to retain or regain their normal heads of hair—and can do the same for you. Call today for a free scalp examination.

free TICKLETOES

is given to you for securing 2 new subscriptions to the Daily and Sunday Constitution

There isn't a single little girl in Atlanta or 'round about who need worry whether or not Santa Claus is going to come to her house this year, for this offer made by The Atlanta Constitution affords an opportunity to have Tickletoes and her lovely bed (a gift to be adored and cherished by any little girl) without a penny's cost.

If you could buy Tickletoes at the store she alone would cost from $10 to $12 because she's a big "life-like" baby doll beautifully dressed in organdy with trimmings of lace and ribbons. And she cries when you squeeze her dimpled knees, too. She rolls her eyes, and her little arms, legs and cute little fingers and toes are of moulded rubber that feel and look exactly real. And when her tiny hands and legs get dirty, you can wash them with soap and water just like you do your own.

It will take you scarcely no time at all to earn her, and after you get the required subscriptions you'll say that they were worth a hundred times more effort than it took to get them.

Little girls, you don't have to save your pennies or have any money to get the darling "life-like" baby doll, TICKLETOES

The switching of names or changing the address from the business address to the home address, or vice versa, will not count. Orders signed by minors will not be accepted. Orders signed by single men will not be accepted unless they are permanent residents of Atlanta and hold responsible positions. The Constitution reserves the right to finally accept or reject any subscription secured by any contestant.

COMEDY PICTURE AT PARAMOUNT. "FAST AND LOOSE," with Miriam Hopkins, Newell and short subjects, back on the stage, Jack LaMotte and his Yellow Jacket orchestra and vaudeville artists.

"Fast and Loose" is a delightful comedy of modern youth is the feature attraction at the Paramount and seemed to please the audience that attended the Saturday night offering.

Such stars as Carol Lombard, Miriam Hopkins, Frank Morgan, Charles Starrett and many others give one of the best performances of their career in this picture. "Fast and Loose" is one of the cleverest features to show in an Atlanta theater in some time and we recommend that you don't miss this picture.

The story depicts the life of a son and daughter of a wealthy New Yorker, who almost ruin their lives because of too much money. The son, played by Henry Watkinson, spends most of his time drinking, while his sister is fast becoming a snob, and around this setting is woven the story of "Fast and Loose."

Adolph Goebel, ace of Atlanta organists, again demonstrated his talent with a splendid organ program. This feature of the program is perhaps the most enjoyable to be seen or heard at the Paramount.

As an added attraction, the Paramount offers this week Jack LaMotte and his Yellow Jacket orchestra with double quartet from the Tech Glee Club. Mr. LaMotte proves to be a very capable musician and put over some numbers in a big way. In fact every body gave them a big hand, so they must be good.

Paramount sound news and a Terwyn comedy reel complete one of the best programs offered at the Paramount in a long time.

Will Wear Modish Raiment This Evening

The accompanying photograph shows charming debutantes modeling the modish costumes to be shown in the fashion show this evening, at 8:30 o'clock in the Biltmore ballroom. At the left is Miss Margaret Arnold, who wears a stunning Chiaparella street costume, combining black wool crepe with white French lapin. A black felt hat is offset with a small ball of white fur, and around her shoulders are two handsome silver fox skins. Miss Phoebe Rhet, at the right, wears a smart sports suit ensemble of mixed tweed, in black and white, worn with a white crepe blouse introducing tiny pin dots. Her hat is of black felt and her luxurious furs are of silver fox. The fashion parade will be followed by an informal dance, and the proceeds derived from the festivity goes to charity, the Debutante Club of 1930-31 having adopted the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children. Atlanta To Get More Rain Today Forecast Says

Belligerent clouds will look down on Atlanta today while Sol will hide permanently for the day, it has been forecast by C. F. von Herrmann, Atlanta's own official weather prophet. The sun will continue to hide until after Thursday, it is predicted and in the interim the rain maker will be active.

While Jude does his best to make up for the long dry spell that has been Atlanta's lot for some weeks, the temperature will hover between 55 and 60, just about the same as it was for Saturday and Sunday. It was indicated that with the wet spell that is due, the deficiency in rainfall for the year, as recorded at the local weather bureau, will be materially cut.

HAINES PLEASES PATRONS AT FOX

"REMOTE CONTROL," with William Haines, Newell and short subjects. Mel Ruick and musicians. Al Evans at the organ. On the stage, Fanchon and Marco's "City Service" idea.

William Haines addicts will find their bright boy just as bright, and just as unbearable as ever in "Remote Control," playing this week at the Fox. The picture itself is cleverly directed and the action never lags, so that Mr. Haines can be as mortifyingly unfunny as he pleases; the most of his time thinking, while his sister is fast becoming a snob, and around this setting is woven the story of "Fast and Loose."

Adolph Goebel, ace of Atlanta organists, again demonstrated his talent with a splendid organ program. This feature of the program is perhaps the most enjoyable to be seen or heard at the Paramount.

The home was decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and potted plants, and an altar was erected before the mantel in the drawing room, banked with palms and ferns interspersed with white tapers. Floor vases holding handsome yellow and white chrysanthemums were placed at each end of the altar. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Joe Edwards, of Zebulon, a cousin of the bride. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride and groom entered together, their being no attendants on account of the recent death of the bride's uncle.

FRESH AIR CIRCULATION IS THE SECRET OF ICE REFRIGERATION

moist enough • dry enough
cold enough

The arrows tell the story. Cold air is heavy. It falls from the ICE, cooling foods by absorbing heat from them. As it warms slightly, it expands and grows lighter. It rises, cooling foods in its ascent. At the top of the refrigerator the ICE draws the warmer air to it to be washed and chilled again for another cooling cycle.

As it cools food, the air absorbs odors from them, which it deposits on the ICE where they are dissolved and washed down the drain.

A well-designed, well-iced refrigerator, with foods placed as in illustration, is always fresh and sweet. ICE works automatically—constantly cooling and cleansing. Depend on ICE in all weathers.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

INSTALLMENT XLVII.

I was just standing in the hall, wondering whether I would not even now go over and join them when the door bell rang.

I crossed over to it. I saw there was a letter in the box and presuming that this was the cause of the ring, I took it out of the box.

As I did so, however, the bell rang again, and I shoved the letter hastily into my pocket and opened the front door.

It was Colonel Melchett.

"Hello, Clement. I'm on my way home from town in the car. Though I'd just look in and see if you could give me a drink."

"Delighted," I said. "Come into the study."

He pulled off the leather coat that he was wearing and followed me into the study. I fetched the whisky and soda and two glasses. Melchett was standing in front of the fireplace, legs wide apart, stroking his closely clipped beard. But let that go for the minute. How are things going down here? Any more old ladies hot on the scent?

"They're not doing so badly," I said. "One of them, at all events, thinks she's got there."

"Our friend, Miss Marple, eh?"

"Our friend, Miss Marple."

"Women like that always think they know everything," said Colonel Melchett.

"It's probably unnecessary interference on my part asking," I said. "But I suppose somebody has questioned the fish boy. I mean, if the murderer left by the front door, there's a chance the boy may have seen him."

"Black questioned him right enough," said Melchett. "But the boy says he didn't meet anybody. Hardly likely he would. The murderer wouldn't be exactly courting observation. Lots of cover by your front gate. He would have taken a look to see if the road was clear. The boy had to call at the vicarage, at Haydock's, and at Mrs. Price Riddle's. Easy enough to dodge him."

"Yes," I said. "I suppose it would be."

On the other hand, went on Melchett. "If by any chance that rascal Archer did the job, and young Fred Jackson saw him about the place, I doubt very much whether he'd let on. Archer is a cousin of his."

"Do you seriously suspect Archer?"

"Well, you know," Colonel Melchett said, "old Protheroe had his knife into Archer pretty badly. Lots of bad blood between them. Leniency wasn't Protheroe's strong point."

"No," I said. "He was a very ruthless man."

"What I say is," said Melchett, "live and let live. Of course, the law's the law, but it never hurts to give a man the benefit of the doubt. That's what Protheroe never did."

"He prided himself on it," I said. "There was a pause, and then I asked: 'What is this astounding bit of news you promised me?'"

"Well, it is astounding. You know that unfinished letter that Protheroe was writing when he was killed?"

"Yes."

"We got an expert on it—to say whether the 6-20 was added by a different hand. Naturally, we sent up samples of Protheroe's handwriting. And do you know the verdict? That letter was never written by Protheroe at all."

"You mean a forgery?"

"It's a forgery. The 6-20, they think, is written in a different hand again—but they're not sure about that. The heading is in a different ink, but the letter itself is a forgery. Protheroe never wrote it."

"Why," I said, "I remember at the same time Mrs. Protheroe said it wasn't like her husband's handwriting at all, and I took no notice."

"Really?"

"I thought it one of those silly remarks women will make. If there seemed one thing sure on earth it was that Protheroe had written that note."

"It's curious," I said, slowly. "Miss Marple was saying this evening that that note was all wrong."

"Confound the woman, she couldn't know more about it if she had committed the murder herself."

At that moment the telephone bell rang. There is a queer kind of psychology about a telephone bell. It rang now persistently and with a kind of sinister significance.

I went over and took up the receiver.

"This is the vicarage," I said. "Who's speaking?"

A strange, high-pitched, hysterical voice came over the wire.

"I want to confess!" it said. "My God, I want to confess!"

"Hello!" I said. "Hello! Look here, you've got me off. What number was that?"

A languid voice said it didn't know. It added that it was sorry I had been troubled.

I put down the receiver and turned to Melchett.

"You once said," I remarked, "that you would go mad if anyone else accused themselves of the crime."

"What about it?"

"That was someone who wanted to confess," and the exchange has cut us off.

"I'll speak to them."

"Do," I said. "You may have some effect. I'll leave you to it. I'm going out. I've a fancy I recognized the voice."

I hurried down the village street. It was 11 o'clock and at 11 o'clock on a Sunday night the whole village of St. Mary Mead might be dead. I saw, however, a light in a first-floor window as I passed, and realizing that Hawes was still up, I stopped and rang the door bell.

After what seemed a long time, Hawes' landlady, Mrs. Sadler, laboriously unfastened two bolts, a chain, and turned a key, and peered out at me suspiciously.

"Good evening," I said. "I want to see Mr. Hawes. I see there's a light in the window, so he's up still."

"That may be," I've not seen him since I took up his supper. He had a quiet evening—no one to see him, and he's not been out."

I nodded and, passing her, went quickly up the stairs. Hawes has a bedroom and sitting room on the first floor.

I assessed into the latter. Hawes was lying back in a long chair asleep. My entrance did not wake him. An empty cachet box and a glass of water, half full, stood beside him.

On the floor, by his left foot, was a crumpled sheet of paper with writing on it. I picked it up and straightened it out.

It began: "My dear Clement—"

I read it through, uttered an exclamation, and shoved it into my pocket. There was the same handwriting as the anonymous letter that had come that afternoon.

I read it once—twice—unable to realize its contents.

I was beginning to read it a third time when the telephone rang. Like a man in a dream, I picked up the receiver and spoke.

"Is that you, Melchett?"

"Yes, where are you?" I've traced that call. The number is—"

"I know the number."

"O, good! Is that where you are speaking from?"

"Yes."

"What about that confession?"

"I've got the confession all right."

"You mean you've got the murderer?"

"I had then the strongest temptation of my life. I looked at Hawes. I looked at the crumpled letter. I looked at the empty cachet box with the name of Cherubim on it. I remembered a certain casual conversation."

"I—don't know," I said. "You'd better come round."

And I gave him the address.

G. M. A. VICTORY WILL MEAN TIE WITH TECH HIGH

By Roy White.

Boys' High's 2-to-0 defeat Saturday at the hands of Tech High weakened their claims both in the city and G. I. A. A. ranks, but a victory Friday will restore some of their prestige and place them back in the running for G. I. A. A. honors. That victory, however, will give Tech High a clear claim to city championship honors.

TWO CLAIMS

G. M. A., on the other hand, with the tie game against Tech High, will fight for a claim to both city and state honors. A Cadet victory over Boys' High will give them a tie with Tech High for city honors and a sure claim to a playoff for the northern division of the G. I. A. A. It is possible that Tech High and G. M. A. will meet again to settle their claims to supremacy and the title.

Other important games of the week include Decatur and Russell this afternoon at East Point. Decatur, with five victories and two tie games, is fighting to end its schedule without a defeat, so that it can claim the Class "B" championship of the prep loop. Commercial, another strong team in that division, is also undefeated, and will meet Griffin High this afternoon. Griffin in a game postponed from last Friday.

Marist and Fulton High will share the spotlight Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Spiller field. The game was scheduled for November 27, but as no playing field could be secured for that date it was moved up to this week. Both teams were idle during the past week-end, because of postponed games. Marist was listed to play R. E. Lee, of Thomaston, and Fulton had a game booked with Carroll.

TWO DAYS' REST.

Tech High, after its spectacular 2-0-0 victory over Boys' High Saturday afternoon, will go back into action at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at piller field, with Alabama Military Institute as opponents. A victory for the Smithies will make them something or other in Alabama prep circles, as both Ensley High and Tuscaloosa High have already been defeated by Tech High. Their defeat of Tusloos was the first in 48 starts for Alabama.

While the local prep teams are battling for Montana's supremacy, there will be plenty of competition among the G. I. A. ranks.

Madison Aggies, at present leading the northern division, plays Riverside Military Academy Friday at Madison in another important game. The Minnesota Comets have a strong claim to the title and will play a high school all-play-off honors game at Long Tech High, Boys' High and G. M. A.

Gordon Institute plays the Clarkesdale Aggies Friday in Barnesville.

M. C. plays University School Friday in Milledgeville and Columbus Jays Lanier High Friday in Macon.

Other important games of the week-

GRID CLASH TODAY.
GAINESVILLE, Ga., Nov. 16.—Gainesville High and Hartwell will play a postponed football game Monday afternoon on the Gainesville gridiron, instead of at Hartwell. The game was postponed from Friday, due to excessive rains last week.

one. No team has yet tested the Tide.

Meanwhile the conference runners-up were falling thick and fast.

Vanderbilt perhaps feels worse than Georgia. The Commodore sophomores failed to click and went down before Bobby Dodd's passing. It was the third straight defeat for the Commodores at the hands of the vols.

Auburn had poor luck, losing in the last minute of play by one point. Red Cagle's team gave him a victory before he left to play pro ball. North Carolina lost to Davidson by a single point.

Other games went about as expected. Sewanee made a great fight, losing 14 to 13, to South Carolina Maryland made a clean sweep of state opponents by beating V. P. I., Florida surprised by the size of her 27-20 victory over Clemson; Kentucky added to Virginia's record with a 27-16 win over Virginia Tech. and Duke beat North Carolina State.

Georgia Tech's defeat at Philadelphia, with Penn doing the beating, was the only one of the six that are still without re-coordination and power with five or six sophomores in the lineup.

Very happy day for some. But think of the women and children who are weeping. The flags are not really at half mast anywhere but at Athens and Athens. The gloom is thick.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Krautland Rice

INTO THE STRETCH.

A CERTAIN poetic philosopher told a good part of the football story in these two lines—

"As this old world goes round' and round',

Some go up and some go down."

That is what most of the football teams have been doing this season—going up and down through a campaign where only a few survivors are left with their escutcheons on straight.

The stronger teams that have won every game include, among others, Notre Dame, Northwestern, Alabama, Washington State, Utah and Western Maryland.

Florida and Georgia passed from the picnic party on Saturday driven out by Tulane and St. Mary's. Northwestern or Notre Dame must give way next Saturday.

The circle is now fairly well set. Washington State has bagged the Far West crown and Utah governs the Rocky Mountain district. Texas leads in the southwest and Alabama and Tulane are neck and neck in the south. Michigan and Northwestern will split the conference plum pudding, with the Big Six in something of a jam and jumble, Kansas and Oklahoma leading. Tulane has come with a wild stampede since its defeat by Northwestern, and has caught up to St. Mary's.

But Notre Dame, Alabama and Northwestern have never even faltered or run into a close call. Theirs has been the season's most consistent play on the side of winning power.

THE UNUSUAL.

TWO of the main shocks were Tulane's 25 to 0 win from an unbeaten Georgia team and the Holy Cross destruction of Harvard. Captain McEwain and his team have had a hard year but they got it all back in this one game. Tulane was given an even chance against Georgia, but no one looked for any such avalanche against a team that had beaten Yale and N. Y. U., and are none too easy to beat.

Fordham and Georgia met strong opponents, but they also showed how the strain of an unbeaten season after a hard schedule finally takes its toll.

Colgate again took its high place, but there is a world of credit coming to Cornell and Columbia for the stands they made against what looked to be heavy odds. Dartmouth looked to have too much manpower for Cornell, and Columbia, minus Hewitt, seemed to be far on the outside. They proved again that you can't tell in these November games, or any other games. It was fine stuff against all the odds.

And in the meanwhile Notre Dame, Northwestern and Alabama were pounding along the one-way road, not yet thoroughly tested by any rival squad. Minnesota made a fine stand against Michigan and Fessler kept Ohio State on the new path.

TWO SECTIONAL GRIDIRON RACES COME TO CLOSE

Cougars Capture Coast Title; Utah Is Rocky Mountain Winner

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(P)—The football legion's third November charge brought the customary quota of form reversals Saturday, but at the same time settled the issue in two of the country's major conferences and clarified the situation in two others.

In the far west, Washington State's great eleven clinched the Pacific Coast conference title by whipping Washington, 3-0, while the Utah Indians, burning Colorado University under a 34-0 count, won the Rocky Mountain championship for the third straight year.

The chase for the Western conference crown settled down to a private affair between Northwestern and Michigan, while the field of contenders in the Southern conference also dwindled to two, Alabama and Tulane.

Washington State's conference-winning triumph over the Washington Huskies was achieved on Lyle Hasselquist's magnificent field goal from 38-yard line in the first period. Oregon State came to Washington State's rescue and made the Cougars' title claim clear by giving Oregon its first defeat of the year. 15-0. Southern California's formidable machi... beat... Washington State, trounced Hawaii, 52-0.

In the Western conference, Northwestern's Wildcats, unbeaten and untied, had to come from behind to turn back Wisconsin, 20-7. Michigan beat Minnesota, 7-0, on Jack Wheeler's 45-yard run back of a punt, and needs only to beat Chicago's hapless Maroons to achieve a tie with Northwestern in the final standings.

WEST COMES ON.

Two Big Ten teams, Ohio State and Iowa, turned back eastern foes. Ohio State, led by Wes Fesler, beat Pitt, 16-7, while Iowa was trouncing Penn State, 19-0. Notre Dame maintained its perfect record, beating Drake, 28-7, but had to call on the first string to turn the trick.

In the Big Six, Kansas staged a comeback to outpoint Oklahoma, 13-0, and go into a tie with the Sooners for the conference lead. Missouri and Nebraska fought a bitter scoreless draw, while the Kansas Aggies turned back Iowa State, 13-0.

Alabama's success up to the point of its triumph in Louisiana State, 33-0 for its seventh Southern conference triumph, but Tulane provided most of the fireworks by giving Georgia a 33-0 victory. The running and left halfback, Ed McCullough, who led Georgia from the running and left Tulane alone disputing Alabama's march to the title. Bobby Dodd's all-around work featured Tennessee's 13-0 victory over Georgia. The team was surprised with a 7-6 victory over a highly-favored North Carolina eleven.

In the east, Slip Madigan's St. Mary's combination from California was the only team to win the first game and gave the Fordham Maroons their first beating since the final game of the 1928 season. The score

The stirring interspersal clash was forced to yield, in point of drama at least, to the sensational showing of Princeton, which barely bowed out of the game. The four earlier games, outflow and outgamed the Elis, but saw a 74-yard march downfield in the closing minutes of the game for a 10-0 victory. A net's plumb, or fourth down, was halted on Yale's 2-yard line, inches short of first down. Albie Booth's first crucial field goal furnished the Red 10-0 victory.

Penn crushed Georgia Tech, 34-7. Army toyed with Kentucky Wesleyan, 42-2, and Southern Methodists' possession of the game was a 34-0 victory. Navy, 20-7. Harvard could not stop Phil O'Connell's passes, and the Crimson was swamped by Holy Cross, 34-0. A touchdown near to a thrilling 19-13 victory over Cornell.

"A population of 500,000 by 1932" is Atlanta's slogan. Let all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

HOME OWNERSHIP IS AID TO SUCCESS

W. D. Beattie, Atlanta home builder with nearly 45 years' experience, says "more people have started up the ladder to financial independence through home ownership than in any other way."

"The home," he continued, "is always something to fall back on in times of distress. If it carries no loan, and dire necessity comes, a loan may be placed on it to tide over a given period. A home-owner can open a charge account, and get credit when needed. One's own home gives a social background for the entire family, and the permanent residence enables a family to make friends with their neighbors and allows them the opportunity of taking a deeper interest in civic and municipal affairs.

"The home-owner has no restrictions placed upon him as to the size of his family or whether he may keep a dog or a cat. The children can romp and play with more freedom, and pride of possession inspires the need of additional improvements that are good for the entire family."

Mr. Beattie's great success as a home builder lays in the two plans he offers to the buyers of the new homes he builds. The first is he builds splendid modern homes, using the very best building materials throughout and finishes them inside and out very neatly and attractively, leaving little or nothing for the new home-owners to do.

The second is to let the prospective buyer select a lot in any one of his subdivisions and build the new home according to plans selected by the buyer, and that is the status of building operations going on at this time on Sisson avenue, in Oakhurst, running south from DeKalb avenue, near the western border of Decatur.

Sisson avenue is a beautiful street with all improvements and has a grass parkway between the sidewalks and curbing where much beautiful shrubbery is already planted and more to be planted soon. The lots and new homes on the east side of the street are elevated, offering a view of the capital and other tall buildings less than five miles away.

WEST END RECORD MAKES APPEARANCE

The Record, a weekly newspaper devoted to community civic matters, respected in the southwestern division of Greater Atlanta this week under its original name. The West End Record, following an absence of nearly two years, during which time the community news matter of the West End section was carried as a major part of The Fulton Record, is an announcement of W. W. Matthews, publisher, states that The Fulton Record will be continued as a monthly and with drastic change in policy. "In future The Fulton Record will carry no comment of any nature," Mr. Matthews said. "It's news columns will be devoted entirely to the public records of the borough of Greater Atlanta and Fulton and DeKalb counties, community civic organizations and local statistics. The West End Record will be devoted to West End and the southwestern section exclusively."

COMPANY ATTRIBUTES GAIN TO ADVERTISING

During periods of depression money can be spent to a decided advantage, and it is not necessary to curtail in every line. Lipscomb-Weyman-Chapman Company has spent large sums advertising special features in the newspapers during the past few months, and, as a consequence, is reaping the benefit of this publicity by an increase in business in all departments.

In October the percentage of people actually renting apartments, in proportion to the inquiries, was much greater than during the months of August and September. It has been estimated that at the close of the renting season in August some 2,000 families had not renewed their lease contracts. This company continues to rent apartments and sign new lease contracts as if it was in the middle of the very heavy season. The firm attributes this directly to the effect of advertising.

The rental department of the organization has its collections divided according to the amounts of rent due over certain periods of each month, and finds that each month the amount received is more nearly approaching the amount of collections due than has been the case previously. This would give to the prospective tenant a feeling that they are dealing with a permanent organization that can satisfy their needs.

Lipscomb-Weyman-Chapman Company has connections to take care of insurance needs, banking facilities for commercial accounts, and affords service to its landlords by an efficient and modern bookkeeping machine system.

This is a loan department for funds, and a sales department offering splendid investments at this time by the dollar yardstick, but now let the home owner measure it by home comforts. Put a little baby down on a floor or a rug in the house on a windy or cold day and you know the average baby or small child will just play on the floor with its blocks, picture books and other toys. Now suppose you get down there and play with the baby a minute or two. What is the first thing you will say if there is a large crack under the door? Invariably it will be, "My goodness, how cold this room is getting," when the fact of the matter is, it is cold to those on the floor on all cold days.

"If a mother knows that a direct draft is blowing on any of her loved ones she quickly corrects this, as she knows the child, invalid, aged mother or father would be likely to receive a very bad cold from the draft."

This direct draft sees or knows of is only temporarily caused by the window or door being opened, yet the cold wind or air coming in the threshold or around a loose fitting window is always ready to come in when the air in a room is warmer than the outside air, and if there are no weather strips in your house the heat that you pay good money to generate is losing one-fourth of its value to you and causing sickness, discomfort, worry and doctor's bills.

ing to the calendar as set - Saturday.

Mrs. Logan was shot and killed at an address on Edgewood avenue on the night of October 4. A few minutes after the shooting Mrs. Cobb was arrested and subsequently indicted.

The cases of William R. Early and his wife, Daisy Early, charged with burglary of the J. Regenstein store on Whitehall street, originally set to be heard this week, were Saturday put on the calendar for Monday, November 24.

PRINTING COMPANY HAS BUSINESS GAIN

"We are pleased to report," says A. E. Dowman, president of the Dowman-Crosby Printing Company, 177 Luckie street, N. W., "that our fall business is much better than it was at this time last year. We have been noticing a gradual increase in our commercial printing for some 60 days past, and the indications are that it will continue to improve, as there is a more optimistic feeling in the atmosphere that general business conditions are getting better, and especially in our part of the country."

"We have been doing some unusually good 'broadsheet' printing for many of our live business firms, who are going after business with a little more courage and vim than they have displayed over a year, and some of them are so well pleased with results obtained that they are increasing their orders with us."

"Our customers that we have been printing catalogs for for years have also been more active lately and our workmen are printing and pressing 'have been turning out considerable catalog work."

WEATHER STRIPS CUT CONSUMPTION OF FUEL

R. M. Callaway, head of R. M. Callaway & Son Company, of 1177 Peachtree street, N. E., is telling all those interested in their Monarch metal weather strip that if they install it in a house it will not reduce the cost of fuel but the quantity of it.

"Internationally known men," says Mr. Callaway, "have conclusively proved that the cold air that comes in through the cracks around windows is causing a heat loss of 32 per cent. Expert engineers of our Monarch metal weather strips are proving that they save 90 per cent of this 32 per cent heat loss when properly installed."

"The foregoing," continued Mr. Callaway, "is measuring the matter just by the dollar yardstick, but now let the home owner measure it by home comforts. Put a little baby down on a floor or a rug in the house on a windy or cold day and you know the average baby or small child will just play on the floor with its blocks, picture books and other toys. Now suppose you get down there and play with the baby a minute or two. What is the first thing you will say if there is a large crack under the door? SHOE ASSOCIATION GAINS RECOGNITION

L. D. Bailey, president of the Atlanta Shoe Rebuilders' Association, says, "The recognition that the public is giving our new association is very gratifying to members, and is very much appreciated by every one in the association."

"In organizing our association some four months ago we were actuated by two motives, one was to stop ruinous price cutting and inferior workmanship and bad materials, and the other was to call the public's attention to the fact that as a united body we could serve them better and more expeditiously."

"Our association has also been of great help to all our members, for it has brought us closer together, and in the interchange of ideas and practices we have learned individually from the collective body many little time-saving ideas that are helpful to us all."

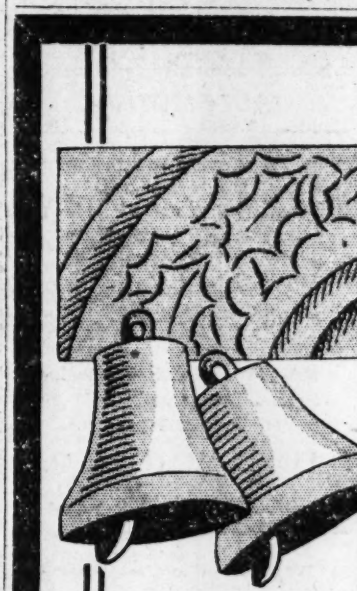

"Then our own responsibility to the public and the greater aim to serve them has been inculcated into the minds of some who heretofore only saw the profit side of repairing shoes.

"As the shoe business has risen to be the sixth important business in the nation, we are pleased at the dignity our calling and vocation has attained, and are impressing our members with the fact that the best in workmanship, materials and service is what they owe to the least as well as the most particular among their customers.

"One of the greatest factors in the present-day shoe rebuilder's favor is the great aid we are receiving from new and improved shoe rebuilding machinery. Present-day machines some of our members now use would cost more than the outfit in a dozen cobblers' shops of a few years back."

SERVICES CONDUCTED
FOR LEROY GREGORY

Last rites for LeRoy Gregory, 60, for many years prominently connected with the banking business, who died Saturday at his home, 227 Canby street, N. E., were conducted at St. Philip's cathedral with the Rev. Russell Smith and Dr. K. L. Russell officiating.

Mr. Gregory's death came after an illness of almost a year, but despite this fact it was unexpected. Not only was he prominent in banking circles, but in church and fraternal order affairs as well. He was a Shriner, a Scottish Rite Mason, a member of the Knights Templar, and was active in the erection of the new Shrine temple.

A native of Louisville, Ky., he came to Atlanta 20 years ago. He was first connected with the American National bank, then the Atlanta and Lowry National bank, and when the latter merged with the Fourth National to form the First National bank, he became associated with the Bradstreet Company.

He was the son of the late Judge Frank Gregory, presiding judge of the Louisville court. He was a graduate of the Louisville Law school and for one year attended the United States Military Academy at West Point. He is survived by his widow; two sisters, Mrs. Alonzo Walker, Louisville, Ky.; and Mrs. J. W. Camden, of Jacksonville, Fla.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the St. Philip's cathedral with the Rev. Russell Smith and Dr. K. L. Russell officiating.

Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Positively identified as T. W. Parker, 40, of 608 West Taylor street, East Point.

Gordon Vandiver, 18, of 938 Ormeau avenue, was critically injured shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday morning when his car in which he was riding with Monroe Mulky, 19, of 649 Kalb avenue, collided head-on with a street car at Gordon and Lawton streets.

Mulky was seriously but not critically injured.

Rushed to Grady hospital, Vandiver was found to be suffering from a fractured skull. He was still unconscious Sunday night, and attaches stated his condition was critical. Mulky was injured about the side and suffered minor internal injuries. He was treated at Grady and allowed to return to his home. He was driving the automobile while W. C. Mullinax was motorman of the street car.

A victim of an automobile accident at Forsyth and Brotherton streets, late Saturday night was identified Sunday at the hospital at T. W. Parker. He had been unconscious all of Saturday night and Sunday morning, but he had been given a slight chance for recovery.

Parker was struck down by a car driven by G. L. Bradberry, 22, of 1278 Belmont avenue, S. W., according to police reports. He was released after making $500 bond Sunday.

Miss Daisy Cole, of 762 Delmar avenue, was injured slightly about 7 o'clock Sunday night when she was struck down at West Peachtree place and Spring street by a truck said to have been driven by E. N. Young, of 250 Glenwood avenue. Miss Cole was treated at Grady hospital and dismissed, while Young was given a copy of charges by police, on a charge of reckless driving.

WE ARE DOING OUR CHRISTMAS SHOPPING EARLY.

THE heavy shopping season of the year is upon us. Each day the streets will become a little more crowded, as the number of Christmas shoppers increases. Each day it will be harder for you to get your car through traffic, harder to get it parked, harder to get home again without accident.

So we are "shopping" for you right now. We want to wrap you up safely in a street car and deliver you to your favorite stores, in comfort—and then home again, in comfort.

We want to carry you on your shopping trip as early in the day as possible—because there are almost always plenty of vacant seats on the street cars during the non-rush hours. The stores are less crowded early in the day and then you will be able to ride to town and back comfortably and without inconvenience either to yourself or to those who can't start home until their day's work is finished.

Of course, the smart person is the one who shops now. Now all of the stores have a full display of Christmas merchandise—not picked over and tossed about by milling crowds. Then, too, traffic grows worse daily as Christmas nears. The crowds on street and sidewalk increase. Frequently there is bad weather, and all traffic is slowed down even more.

You do not need your automobile for shopping. The stores are glad to deliver. You can get around more quickly, more easily, if you have no motor to park, to worry about. You probably can get off a street car within a few steps of your favorite store; certainly closer than you could hope to park your auto. And this is more true than ever during the six weeks before Christmas.

Shop by street car is a good slogan all year 'round. Just before Christmas it is more than a slogan—it is the ideal solution of your personal transportation and traffic problems.
